

Humans Rights Project

The Holocaust option

Long:

- The Diary of Anne Frank (play) available in Weebly
 - A play showing the life in hiding of the Frank and VanDaan families while hiding from the Nazis
- The Diary of Anne Frank (diary) available from Sora or library, etc.
 - The famous diary kept by a young Jewish girl while hiding from the Nazis
- Number the Stars (novel) available from Sora or library, etc.
 - Historical fiction based on the Danish people's heroic efforts to smuggle Jews out of the country to safety in Sweden
- The Upstairs Room (autobiographical novel) available in class or from library, etc.
 - A true story about a young Jewish girl who is taken in by a family to help hide her from the Nazis
- Maus I: A Survivor's Tale (graphic novel) available in class or from library, etc.
 - A nonfiction graphic novel about the author's father's survival of a concentration camp
- White Bird (graphic novel) available in Sora or from school or public library, etc.
 - A fictional graphic novel about a Jewish girl in hiding from the Nazis

Short:

- Parallel Journeys (nonfiction excerpt) p. 698
 - Discusses the famous "Night of Broken Glass," where
- Elie Wiesel's Nobel Prize Acceptance Speech (speech) p. 722
 - Wiesel survived the holocaust and became an important author on the topic of the holocaust—here he accepts the Nobel Peace Prize and talks about his role
- A Tragedy Revealed (nonfiction)
 - A well-researched account of what happened to Anne Frank and everyone else in hiding with her after they were captured
- A Holocaust Survivor, Spared from Gas Chamber by Twist of Fate (nonfiction article)
 - An article that discusses a survivor's account of his experiences in the holocaust
- Walking with Living Feet (nonfiction)
 - A high school girl describes her experiences on a visit to a concentration camp after the war

Micro:

- First They Came (poem)
 - Short poem exploring discrimination
- Never Shall I Forget (poem)
 - Short poem about remembering the horrific events of the Holocaust

- Our Souls Sing (poem)
 - Short poem about overcoming the atrocities of the Holocaust
- Never Again (song/video)
 - Unofficial video for a song by Remedy
- Saved by Music (video)
 - Interview with a Jewish woman who played music for Nazi guards while she was a young girl in the concentration camps