

Review of Your Writing

Answer the following questions on a separate sheet of paper. In the top margin, write the name of the writing prompt that you're reviewing ("Monkey's Paw," "Point of View," etc.). Write the underlined headings on your paper and then answer the questions below those headings.

Did Well:

What did you do well? Be as specific as you can. (For example, you did a good job with your topic sentences, citations, ideas, explanations, topic sentence restatements, avoiding first person, etc.)

Needs Improvement:

What are the top two or three areas to improve upon? (For example, you need to work on your topic sentences, citations, explanations, topic sentence restatements, spelling, ideas, organization in general, etc.)

Thoughts:

What are your thoughts about your writing assignment or about your writing in general? (Are you pleased? Disappointed? do you feel like you're getting better? are you frustrated? etc. Why?.)

Questions:

What questions do you have about your writing assignment or about your writing in general? (You cannot say none)

Compare to Past Writing:

How does this short write compare to your previous writing assignments? Is it better, worse, and why?

What's Been Learned:

What do you feel like you have learned/gained about writing from this writing assignment?
